

Carbon Steel Supporting System

Eon Carbon steel supporting system is made of hot dipping carbon steel and can be used in flat ground.

The system has strong stability, great wind/snow resistance. For different foundation programs, the system can be mounted to the cement foundation through embedded stone bolt, or can mounted to the ground through ground screw. The flexible design, structure diversification allows it to be used in many places. It also can be designed in single or double row.